Come, see, and comment on initial proposals for short, medium, and long term projects to help improve multi modal mobility along these corridors.

The City of Austin invites residents, corridor travelers, businesses, and all interested parties to review and comment on proposed improvements to reduce congestion, improve safety, and enhance quality of life around and on N. The proposals have been developed in coordination with the community and its vision for the corridors through previous stakeholder meetings, and your continued input is needed during this initial review of the project proposals.
